ADOCPH PFANDCER, THE FIRST SUSPERT, TELLING HIS STORY.

In the Deaf Mute Language He Yesterday Expressed His Opinion of the Murder of Professor Max Eglau to a Journal Reporter and Artist.

"I don't know anything about it, and I don't know what I was arrested for. I think it must have been done for money. I don't know whether the pupils did it or not, but I don't think the pupils did. It was probably some man who knew all about Eglau and his habits. A boy, Willie Stern, told me he saw the shadow of a man on the fire-escape. The Fitzgeralds are nice boys. I don't think they are guilty."
